ACCESS SERVICE

7. Special Access Service

7.1 General

Special Access Service provides a transmission path to connect customer designated premises*, either directly or through a Utility Hub where bridging or multiplexing functions are performed, or to connect a customer designated premises to an EIS point of termination. Special Access includes SONET Ring and Access Service®, OC-192 Dedicated SONET Ring Service and all exchange access not utilizing Utility end office switches.

The connections provided by Special Access Service can be either analog or digital. Analog connections are differentiated by spectrum and bandwidth. Digital connections are differentiated by bit rate.

7.1.1 Channel Types

There are several types of channels used to provide Special Access Services. Each type has its own characteristics. All are subdivided by one or more of the following:

- Transmission specifications,
- Bandwidth,
- Speed (i.e., bit rate),
- Spectrum

* Utility Centrex CO-like switches and ports included in Public Packet Switching (PPS) service#, , BITS Timing Clocks, as well as Primary Rate ISDN (PRI) service, are considered to be customer premises for purposes of administering regulations and rates contained in this tariff. Thus, two Channel Termination charges are applicable for each DS1 or other digital transport facility connected to Primary Rate ISDN (PRI) service. (T)

7. Special Access Service (Cont'd)

7.1 General (Cont'd)

7.1.3 Rate Categories

There are six basic rate categories which apply to Special Access Service:

- Channel Terminations (described in 7.1.3, (A) following)
- Channel Mileage (described in 7.1.3, (B) following)
- SONET Ring and Access Services*
- Optional Features and Functions (described in 7.1.3, (E) following)
- OC-192 Dedicated SONET Ring Service
- Optical Carrier Network (OCN) Point to Point Service

In addition, a Special Access Surcharge may apply, as set forth in 7.4.2 following.

(A) Channel Termination/Local Distribution Channel

The Channel Termination rate category provides for the communications path between a customer designated premises and the serving wire center of that premises. Included as part of the Channel Termination is a standard channel interface arrangement which defines the technical characteristics associated with the type of facilities to which the access service is to be connected at the Point of Termination (POT) and the type of signaling capability, if any. The signaling capability itself is provided as an optional feature as set forth in 7.1.4 following. One Channel Termination charge applies per customer designated premises at which the channel is terminated. This charge will apply even if the customer designated premises and the serving wire center are collocated in a Utility building. Thus, two Channel Termination charges are applicable for each DS1 or other digital transport facility connected to Primary Rate ISDN (PRI) service. Channel Termination and Local Distribution Channel may be used interchangeably.
