

ACCESS SERVICES

4. End User Access Service and Presubscription

4.1 End User Access Service

End User Access Service is classified as a Local Exchange Telecommunications Service. Presubscription is classified as neither a Local Exchange nor an Interexchange Telecommunications Service.

The Telephone Company will provide End User Access Service (End User Access) to end users who obtain local exchange service from the Telephone Company under its general and/or local exchange tariffs

4.1.1 General Description

End User Access provides for the use of an End User Common Line (EUCL) by an End User to make and receive intrastate calls.

4.2 Presubscription

Presubscription is a procedure whereby an end user may select and designate to the Telephone Company an IC to access, without dialing an access code, for interLATA calls. This IC is referred to as the end user's primary IC. The presubscription procedure also allows the end user of a Telephone Company pay telephone to select and designate to the Telephone Company an IC to access, without dialing an access code, for 0+ and 00-interLATA calls. For Telephone Company pay telephones, the IC designated as the primary IC for 0+ and 00- traffic may direct the routing of 1+ interLATA calls either to itself or another carrier, without dialing of an access code, subject to provisions set forth in Section 4.2 of Tariff F.C.C. No. 2.

(C)

The end user of the account is defined as the person responsible for payment of the account or any person contractually or otherwise lawfully authorized to change telecommunications services and/or represent the end user.

4.3 International Blocking Service

(A) International Blocking Service (IBS) - Description

The International Blocking Service (IBS) is an optional end user service that provides end office blocking of 011+ and 101XXXX 011+ dialed calls. Originating 011+ and 101XXXX 011+ dialed calls from exchange lines provisioned with the International Blocking Service will be blocked and routed to a recorded announcement. IBS is available to any Call Aggregators' exchange line side services that are subject to either the Single Line Business End User Common Line (EUCL) or Multiline Business EUCL rates. It is also available to Centrex Dormitory Call Aggregator lines. It is provided where facilities permit as specified in the National Exchange Carrier Association Inc., Tariff F.C.C. No. 4.
