

EXCHANGE ACCESS SERVICE

A. Descriptive Summary

The basic rate element for the local exchange service offered in this Guidebook is the exchange access line. The exchange access line is composed of the serving central office line equipment, all outside plant facilities needed to connect the serving central office with the customer premises, and the network interface. These facilities are provided and maintained by the Company and provide access to and from the telecommunications network for long-distance service and for local calling. The local calling option is selected by the customer as set forth in this Guidebook. The long-distance service option is selected by the customer as set forth in the Access Service Tariff and Part 9 of this Guidebook.

B. General

1. This Guidebook applies to local exchange telephone services furnished or made available by the Company in the state of Kansas. Unless otherwise specified, the charges quoted are for periods of one month, are payable monthly in advance, and entitle the customer to exchange telephone service as described in this Guidebook.
2. The local exchange rates shown in this Guidebook are applied in accordance with the provisions of this Guidebook for services located within each exchange. The base rate area, isolated base rate area, exchange area, zone area and base rate area boundary descriptions for each exchange are hereby made part of this Guidebook.

C. Application Of Rates

1. Local exchange service rates are applicable within the base rate area and isolated base rate area as shown on the related base rate area boundary descriptions for the exchange or zone. Where local service is furnished outside the base rate area or isolated base rate area, urban mileage charges are applied as set forth in Part 4, Section 1.

2. Classification of Exchanges

Rates for local exchange service are based on the Rate Group assigned to the exchange. Rates for the various Rate Groups are shown in Part 4, Section 2.

3. Kansas Universal Service Fund (KUSF) Assessment

The Company will assess a fee to support the KUSF in accordance with regulations of the Kansas Corporation Commission.
