TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE PRIORITY SYSTEM (TSP)

The priority provisioning and restoration of services offered under this Guidebook relative to the National Security Emergency Preparedness (NSEP) Telecommunications Service Priority (TSP) system shall be pursuant to the regulations and rates as delineated in Section 10 of the Access Service Tariff (or the Access and Related Interconnection Services Guidebook). (C)

TELECOMMUNICATIONS RELAY SERVICE

A. Application of this Offering

The regulations, rates and charges in this section are in addition to the regulations, rates and charges in other Company Guidebooks.

B. General Regulations

1. Title IV of the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) §225 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §151 et seq and §§64.601-64.608 of the Code of Federal Regulations, requires that each common carrier that provides telephone voice transmission services shall, no later than July 26, 1993, provide telecommunications relay service (TRS).
2. TRS includes centers staffed by Communication Assistants who relay conversations between users of a Text Telephone (TTY) or other non-voice communications device and users of voice terminal equipment. Unless otherwise required by law, these Communications Assistants shall not disclose the content of any relayed conversation.
3. TRS shall be accessible by dialing a toll-free number that shall be published within the customer call guide pages of the Company's white page directories.
4. The message between the calling party's service point and the called party's service shall be rated under the long distance provider's tariff, guidebook or service guide without regard to the intermediate TRS relay center.
5. In compliance with the Federal Communication Commission's (FCC) order in Docket No. 90-571, released August 25, 1995, local Telecommunications Relay Service (TRS) calls made from payphones will be provided free of charge.
